MODERNIZED TESTAMENT IS PLANNED

Scholars of University Chicago to Undertake Difficult Task

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
 CHICAGO, Dec. 18.—Bible scholars at the University of Chicago are to engage in writing a new Old Testament, a modern version in simple English language, or rather American language, free of stilted phrases and repetitions. Modern terms will be used, and the style will be in nar-running form instead of the numerous paragraphs in previous translations.
 The translation is too difficult for one man, so several will be assigned to the work. For the reason there will be that many different styles of construction.
 The twenty-eight books of the Testament were written by twenty-eight men and they are entirely different from one another in matter, form and style. Much of the matter of these ancient books is pure poetry and it will be a task to translate poetry from language to another and retain poetic value.
 The New Testament is more difficult for its thought rather than for its literary style. It leads itself more readily to translation
 than does the Old Testament, which is truly a literary work.
 difficulty will be in retaining the literary and poetic value in modern every day speech.

THE HOST TO ROAD BOOSTERS

Auto Route From Mecca to Phoenix

Chief Obstacle

Many Groups Represented at Conferences

PHOENIX, Dec. 18.—Palo Verde valley was host today to a large gathering of representatives of various public organizations interested in the construction of a highway from Mecca to Phoenix. One of the old drawbacks heretofore has been the absence of a bridge across the Colorado. Engineers and other county officials are considering the possibility of constructing a bridge as an essential part of the proposed highway.

ELLEN FINED FOR ATTACK ON EDITOR

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
 STUTTGART (Ark.) Dec. 18.—
 Eleven men including two justices of the peace, indicted by a special grand jury here last week in connection with an attack upon the editor of the Free Press, a local weekly newspaper, pleaded guilty
 today to rioting and malicious mischief and were fined $100 each.
 The defendants also were indicted on charges of assault and battery and aggravated assault, but these charges were dismissed. All of the men are rice growers.

STEALS STREET CAR FOR RIDE

New York Man is Jailed
 After Mils Chase
 by Officers

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—Two policemen in a commanded automobile chased a trolley car which had been taken from the Harrison (N. J.) car barn and run on the wrong track at high speed for a mile on Harrison avenue, yesterday. Near Frank Creek,
 a tributary of the Passaic River, one of the policemen, jumped on the car and brought it to a stop ten minutes before another car was due from the opposite direction.

City is Interested in Road to Reservoir Sites

PORTERVILLE, Dec. 18.—Because the city of Los Angeles is interested in construction of a road
 on the other side of the Sierra to Round Valley and Horsehoe
 Meadows, where city reservoir
 sites are located, it was decided that Los Angeles officials should be approached with a view of connecting plans for this road with those for the proposed Mt. Whitney
 Midland Trail, sponsored by Tulare
 and Inyo counties. The two reservoir sites on the proposed road are on
 the route of the proposed Mt.
 Whitney Midland Trail and are called for a joint financing of part of the road.
 H. C. Carr, president of the California Bankers' Association, who is also vice-president and manager of the first National Bank of this city and a member of the Mt.
 Whitney Midland Trail committee, was named a delegate to lay the matter before southern officials.

PLAN SUPPORTED

R. M. Norton, State Highway Engineer, recently stated in a communication to local chamber officials that the route of the proposed Mt. Whitney Midland Trail was not in the highway system
 and therefore there was no way
 State highway funds could be used for its construction. Also that resolution which Tulare county Supervisors indorsed, asking for a co-operative county, State and Federal road from Camp Nelson, Tulare county, to Lone Pine, Inyo county, for which survey has been made.

BILL REINTRODUCED

VISALIA, Dec. 18.—A bill known as House Bill No. 465 has been reintroduced by Congressman H.
 E. Barbours of this district and asks for $150,000 for a new building in Visalia to house the United States Land Office and office. This bill has been introduced at every session in order that it may be continued actively on file in event Congress elects to again appropriate any money for such purposes.

AUTO DRIVER FINED

TULARE, Dec. 18.—B. Pritim of San Francisco was fined $100 in the local justice court after being convicted on a charge of reckless driving. Traffic Officer Hogan some weeks ago filed five separate complaints against Pritim, following a collision on the highway
 south of this city on November 19, in which the officer narrowly escaped with his life. This trial is understood to have been of a preliminary nature, and that Pritim will be brought into court at an early date to answer to the other charge. Since his arraignment on the day following the collision he has been out on $1000 bond, $500
 on each of two of the five charges, namely, speeding and reckless driving.

SEAT SALE UNDER WAY

LINDSAY, Dec. 18.—John R.
 Turner of Lindsay, executive secretary of the Tulare County Tuberculosis Association, is distributing Christmas seals for raising funds for the national, State, county and local chapters. The seals are mailed in dollar lots, with the understanding that they will be returned by those who are not interested in supporting the organization. Twenty-five per cent of the proceeds go to the State, 35 to the local and 50 to the county work. The county association maintains the Kaweah-Kiddle Kamp in "Funkin' Holler" for undernourished children, and directs the county health center at Visalia, where more than 500 adults and children have been given free

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 18.—Edwin Engdahl, Minneapolis patrolman and World War veteran, appeared in District Court and got a temporary order restraining his wife, Mrs. Agnes R. Engdahl, from "anno-ying or threatening him," pending argument on a motion to make the order permanent, as a part of a divorce action in which Engdahl charges his wife with "striking him, humiliating him, ridiculing him, preventing him from obtaining proper rest, and endangering his means of livelihood."

AFGHANS IN UGLY MOOD; FEAR FELT

British Troops Mobilize on Border for Dash on Kabul if Necessary

(BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
 LONDON, Dec. 18.—Fifteen thousand British and Indian troops including infantry, cavalry, field artillery and airplanes are being held in readiness at Peshawar, on the Afghanistan-Indian frontier for a dash to Kabul should such a move become necessary to save the members of the European legations and other Europeans from massacre by the excited Afghan population.
 So far the attitude of the ambassador of Afghanistan continues scrupulously correct, but the opinion is growing that he will not be able to restrain the passions of his fanatical subjects. He has promised to arrest and to turn over the tribesmen who murdered
 a number of British officers and their wives but it is reported that the murderers are walking around the bazaars of Kabul unmolested.
 Threats are being made daily by agitators against the Europeans which are guarded by only 100 rifles or less as some troops were sent out as escorts to the British women now on their way to Peshawar.

REAL AMERICAN FISH

No fish has enjoyed a more exciting career, achieved such unversal popularity or met with more praise than the black finny warrior, familiar to all anglers as the black bass. He is a native American, the waters of the Middle West, west of the Alleghenies, being his native habitation. He was the red man's friend. When the native man has almost disappeared the native fish has multiplied and is now found in streams where he had been an utter stranger. He is a shining example that the nation should be proud of, since he is always ready to fight for his principles, his rights and his home. He fights to his death, always hits the first smash, takes everything he wants and what on about his business.—

SILVER IN THE WAR

Silver fought another good fight in the World War. In 1918 the Allied armies were battling desperately. Every available man was on the fighting line. One of the things the Allies needed was just gunny seeking another name for just. There is only one place in the world to get jute—India. Pattently the British government had taught the natives that silver certificates were as good as silver, but by 1918 the British government, by jute purchases had withdrawn
 nearly all the silver used to back these certificates. Germany learned this and began to hoard silver in India. A run on Indian banks would have destroyed the confidence of the natives in Britain and thrown India into revolt.
 Silver must be found somewhere to save India, and possibly to save the Allies. Supplies of mined silver had been exhausted. There was only one big source of silver,
 the vaults of the United States Treasury. Here great piles of silver dollars backed our silver certificates. Britain asked that silver.
 The United States sold it gladly.
 More than $400,000,000 worth of silver dollars were melted and sent to India, later to be replaced in the vaults by new purchases through the Pittman silver act. That's how silver helped win the war.—[Geographic Society

City is Interested in Road to
 Reservoir Sites

PORTERVILLE, Dec. 18.—Because the city of Los Angeles is interested in construction of a road
 on the other side of the Sierra to
 Round Valley and Horsehoe
 Meadows, where city reservoir
 sites are located, it was decided that Los Angeles officials should be
 approached with a view of connecting plans for this road with
 those for the proposed Mt. Whitney
 Midland Trail, sponsored by Tulare
 and Inyo counties. The two reservoir
 sites on the proposed road are on
 the route of the proposed Mt.

QUICKSANDS OF NEW YORK NOT TO BE SCOFFED AT

Southern Woman Great Comfort to Girls Attending School or Visiting in Metropolis

BY RAYMOND G. CARROLL
(Exclusive Dispatch)

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—There is much in New York City that young stranger-girls should be warned against and protected from. It is not always convenient or possible that father can get away from his business or mother leave her family cares in some distant place to escort their daughter to "America's finishing school."

Too often New York "finishes" careers before they have commenced, wrecking the lives of girls from good homes here to "study music, art and life," in the variety and splendor only to be found in the nation's largest city.

We are not writing of the girls who have come to New York to earn their livelihood. These others have the wisdom of fathers and mothers at their command. Instead we are picturing the dangers besetting the girls of good families who are temporarily here as a sort of demi-tasse for their social and school education.

Although a son from an inland family of means now and then avails himself of the advantage of resident study in New York, the daughter in such a home must steal her opportunities—short visits when her mother or some older trusted female relative can accompany her, or build up the confidence of her parents so they will proudly declare: "Oh, my girl, she is a sensible girl," and then let her come on.

But can she take care of herself? Often these stranger girls find that even their natural dancing instincts are unable to cope with the masked pitfalls of the big town. These quicksands include:

Getting in with the wrong people. Visiting "vulgar" theatrical shows, not knowing in advance what shows are clean and which ones are decidedly not; meeting young men of the "lounge-lizard" type; frequently the sort of dances and parties that just being seen there gives a wrong impression of the character of even a nice, wholesome girl; buying "loud" apparel under the illusion that it is necessary to be bizarre to be considered chic.

Don't scoff at these dangers, for they are very real and pressing. We are writing from New York of what we know in the worried mind-state of distant parents who have daughters in the metropolis. It is not the vagaries of New York that terrifies these parents; it is the tarnish hidden in the whirlpool life here that sometimes makes them take the very name of New York as the good people of the 48 Departments of France recoil at mention of Paris and the English people of the provinces declare "London is not England."

One doesn't like to continue.

ASSOCIATED CHAMBERS IN MEETING

Los Angeles Officials Attend San Fernando-Affair at Girard

Fourteen San Fernando Valley cities were represented at the meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the San Fernando Valley held last night at Girard.

Several Los Angeles city officials, headed by Boyle Workman, president of the City Council and acting Mayor during Mayor Cryer's illness, were present and made addresses on the development and improvement of San Fernando Valley in recent years. Among those who spoke were City Attorney John Stephens and County Supervisor Wright.

E. R. Hollway, president of the association, acted as chairman at the business meeting. V. De La Cruz, president of the Chamber of Commerce, acted as toastmaster at the banquet which was given.

Three delegates from each city, with their wives, were present. In all, about 150 persons attended.

A entertainment program, consisting of vocal solos and vaudeville skits preceded the banquet.

GIGANTIC HOTEL IS PLANNED

Congress in Chicago to Erect Building With 3000 Guest Rooms

(Exclusive Dispatch)

CHICAGO, Dec. 18.—The Congress, one of America's best known hotels which has carried on its registers the names of notables from all over the world, is to be replaced by a $12,000,000 structure, thirty-two stories high, which, with its annexes, will have 3000 rooms and a banquet and convention hall seating 3000 persons.

This will tie the new structure with the Stevens Hotel, soon to be erected two blocks further south in Michigan boulevard. The Stevens will have 3600 rooms, but the new Congress with its annexes will have, in ground area, approximately 10,000 more square feet than the Stevens. One of the annexes of the new Congress is to be a bachelor hotel with white tile, costing $5,000,000, with 160 rooms, gymnasium, baths, running track, tennis courts, etc. Another annex also thirty-two stories high will have 700 rooms. All the annexes are to be connected with the main building by tunnels and bridges at each floor.

"I don't wonder at the inquiry," explained the obliging maître d'hôtel, whispering, "for they are Miss McDonald's girls—the cream of the South. Altogether there are nineteen guests represented at that table, most of the boys being from Northern colleges and all from the very best families in the South."

It was evident the dinner party unfolded to view the solution of a most difficult social problem.

Rev. J. McDonald is the oldest living graduate of Cumberland University at Lebanon, Tenn. He is 95 years of age. He relates with a wealth of detail of the penalty he paid for his thirst for knowledge back in 1844 when at the age of 16, he climbed aboard the stage coach at his home town of Columbia, Tenn., bound for college. There was not room for him inside the coach, and for two days he rode on its top, astride his trunk—along the Indian trail through Nashville, a distance of seventy-five miles.

Later he married. His two daughters, Elizabeth and Musa, became identified respectively with Belmont College and Ward Seminary, the leading girls' colleges of Nashville which consolidated about a decade ago. The Misses McDonald sensed the necessity of expanding into foreign travel and sojourn in the nation's metropolis, the traditionally protected environment of a true southern home.

To that end they hit upon the idea of detaching themselves from teaching from books and thereafter act as resident chaperones for southern girls in New York for the winter and as their traveling chaperones for European trips in the summer.

The discipline with which they surrounded the girls who came to them was that of a home where the daughter is hedged about with all the protection that her mothers presence gives. There were no boarding house rules, but there were enough of the right sort of "don'ts."

Five years ago Miss Musa McDonald died from the effects of a cold contracted abroad. The surviving sister has carried on, and the least of the benefits from her system is the boon to loneome Southern boys in New York of the opportunity she affords for them to call and "pay their respects" to

Christmas Doll Cause of Death Ride of Flyers

(By A. P. Night Writer)

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Dec. 18.

Capt. Harold E. Sturcken, commanding officer of the Forty-seventh School Squadron at Brooks Field, who was killed near Temple this morning with Lieut. Cyril E. Ryals of the same organization when their plane fell, was making a flight to Dallas for the purpose of getting a Christmas doll for his little 3-year-old daughter.

At Capt. Sturcken's home it was announced that the doll was ordered several days ago from a Dallas firm but had not arrived. Fearing that it would not arrive before the holidays, Capt. Sturcken obtained permission for the flight to Dallas so that he might bring back the doll with him tonight.

NO ELECTION FOR ITALY

Nation Preparing for Balloting, Calmly Told by Mussolini None Will be Held

(By Cable and Associated Presses)

ROME, Dec. 18.—Premier Mussolini dropped another bombshell in political circles today, when, in a letter to Minister of Public Works Carnazza, he stated, with reference to the holding of new elections, that he had not decided to consult the country. At the time of the closing of Parliament by royal decree on December 10, it was freely predicted that he would later ask for a decree of dissolution as a prelude to a general election.

Both the newspapers and the leaders of the various political parties were preparing for a new election. Some members of the Chamber of Deputies already had gone back to their homes to see the voters.

The whole country seemed to have settled itself down to a pre-election state, with the holding of caucuses and conferences. Political discussions daily were being recorded in the newspapers.

As the situation stands, the recent closing of the Parliamentary session did not affect the present personnel of Parliament. The old Deputies are still in office until a decree is promulgated dissolving Parliament, and calling for another election.

In some political circles the opinion prevails that Premier Mussolini has never mentioned anything about dissolving Parliament.

Three delegates from each city, with their wives, were present. In all, about 150 persons attended.

A entertainment program, consisting of vocal solos and vaudeville skits preceded the banquet.

It is the belief there that he merely closed the present session and intends to call it together again next spring, when the King will open the deliberations with a speech.

WOOD'S YACHTING IS ATTACKED BY MANILA

(By Cable and Associated Presses)

MANILA, Dec. 18.—The Senate Finance Committee has decided to make a considerable reduction in the appropriation bill lately passed by the Philippine House of Representatives. It is declared the proposed decrease, if approved, would compel Gov.-Gen. Leonard Wood to adjust the executive appropriation to make funds available for operating the yacht Apo or would force him to limit his use of this vessel. The yacht is an appurtenance of the Governor-timber conservation, textiles and many other fields.

It is understood the government's proposals to aid the fire insurance companies by advancing them funds sufficient to pay 10 per cent of their losses will be shelved, owing to lack of time for discussion at the present extraordinary session of the Diet.

Paddock and Tilden May Not Go to Paris

WILL CRIPPLE
OLYMPIC TEAMSprinter Still in Bad With Amateur Athletic UnionTilden Pecced at Tennis Body Over QuarrelN.C.A.A. and A.A.U. Mixed in Paddock's Case

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
CHICAGO, Dec. 18.—Two famous athletes who are counted upon to score heavily for America in the Olympic games to be held in Paris next summer are the subjects of considerable controversy in Olympic circles. One is Charles Paddock, the sensational sprinter from the University of Southern California. The other is William T. Tilden, the national tennis champion. Paddock, however, is the only man whose participation depends upon the decision of others. Tilden has only himself to reckon with.

Tilden is at odds with the United States Lawn Tennis Association as the result of a disagreement with R. D. Hackett, a member of the Davis Cup committee. His threat to drop all team competition for the association in the future. Paddock has been under suspension since last spring, when he was expelled from the A.A.U. by competing in a set of unauthorized games in Paris. Warned in advance that competition would mean suspension, he ignored the advice of his friends and the ruling of the A.A.U.

Quite complicated
The Paddock case is quite a complicated affair, and will be the subject of much discussion during the next few weeks. In fact, the National Collegiate Athletic Association, which holds its annual meeting in January during the Christmas holidays, has informed its members that Paddock's case will be made a test of strength with the A.A.U. Apparently it is a welcome incident for the N.C.A.A. has been waiting for some such opportunity to fight the arbitrary powers of this body.

It is likely that if the N.C.A.A. forces the fight it can win over the A.A.U. There is no charge of professionalism against Paddock. He merely has been convicted of competing in a meet which, although sanctioned by the N.C.A.A., was not sanctioned by the A.A.U. The A.A.U. has a majority representation on the Olympic committee, and its organization was supposed to be primarily responsible for the ruling that no American athletes should compete in Europe during the year prior to the Olympic games. It is true that Harvard and Yale sent a team to meet Oxford and Cambridge last summer, but when this apparent inconsistency was called to their attention it was explained that arrangements for this meet had been made before the A.A.U. ruling.

Bodies at Odds
The N.C.A.A. charges that it did not receive proper consideration in making up the Olympic committee. Those who stood up for the A.A.U. and the were many college men among them, pointed out that the N.C.A.A. when it was organized some eighteen years ago, was organized solely as an advisory body, with the purpose of meeting more than once a year. This explains why the A.A.U.

Sports of 1923

BY FEG MURRAY

Men's Tennis
William Tilden II, proved himself supreme among the players of the world for the fourth successive year by defeating William Johnston in straight sets in the finals of the national singles tournament.

Billy Johnston had previously completed a successful tour of Europe, winning the world's hard-court championship in France, where he defeated Jean Washer of Belgium, and the so-called world's lawn tennis championship at Wimbledon, where he beat Francis T. Hunter, U. S. in the finals.

The United States defended the Davis Cup from the invading Australian team, losing only one match, in which Anderson surprised everyone by beating Johnston. The doubles match, in which Tilden and Williams beat Anderson and Hawks, lasted 2 hours and 45 minutes and was one of the most sensational in tennis history. Australia had beaten France in the final round.

Big Bill Tilden and Brian Norton of South Africa, won the U. S. doubles championship, defeating Williams and Washburn. Tilden also won the national hard-court championship, defeating Manuel Alonzo of Spain, who had beaten him previously in the Illinois State championship.

Twice during the year some of the best eastern players journeyed to the Pacific Coast to take part in tournaments or to play exhibition matches. On the last trip, Richards beat Alonzo in the finals of the Mexican championship at Mexico City. Harvey Snodgrass of Los Angeles, proved one of the new bright lights on the tennis horizon, scoring victories over Johnston and Richards during the course of the year. George Lott of Chicago is the new junior champion.

WOLVERINES REVIVE
ANCIENT AGREEMENT

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
ANN ARBOR (Mich.) Dec. 18.—

Coach Yost of Michigan has just closed an agreement whereby the Michigan football team will appear in East Lansing next season. In commenting upon the agreement the Michigan mentor said: "It has been ten years since we have been to Lansing. M.A.C. is a State institution and next year they dedicate their new stadium. Each year they have come to Ann Arbor and given us a good, clean game. Because of these facts we thought it no more than fair that we go to East Lansing next year, to assist in the building of the new stadium. M.A.C.'s fine new stadium."

STAGG HITS PRO FOOTBALL

Future of Game Depends on Amateur Principles, Declares Veteran Chicago Coach

Alonso Stagg, who has been head football coach at the University of Chicago for twenty years, is one of the strongest advocates for the game, and at the same time condemns in no uncertain terms proselytizing, gambling and professional football as enemies to the cleanliness of the great American college game. A letter received by Joseph Papp, head of the department of physical education at Occidental, sets forth the view of Stagg. It follows:

"It seems like a matter of little consequence for one to attend the Sunday professional football games—nothing more than attending any Sunday event—but it has a deeper meaning than you realize, possibly a vital meaning to college football. Intercollegiate football will live only so long as it contributes to the well-being of the students; that is, while the influences of the game are predominantly on the side of amateur principles, right ideals, proper standards and wholesome conditions.

"For years the college have been waging a bitter warfare against the insidious forces of the gambling public and alumni and against overhauling and short-cutting friends, inside and out, and also not infrequently against coaches and managers who have been anxious to win at any cost, and victory has not been completely won. And now comes another serious menace, possibly greater than all others, viz: Sunday professional football.

Under the guise of fair play but countenancing rank dishonesty in playing men under assumed names, scores of professional teams have sprung up within the last two or three years, most of them on the salary basis of some kind. These teams are bidding hard for college players in order to capitalize not only on their ability but also, and mostly, upon the name of the college they come from, and in many cases the noted alumni mystery of their presence. The well-known Carlisle and Taylorville incident of 1921 is likely to be repeated in some or different occasions this fall. There is nothing that a bunch

MEN STICK TO TENNIS ETHICS

Player Squares Score on a Lineman's Error

Expert Opposed to Rules Against a "Throw"

Declares There Are Too
Many Committees

BY WILLIAM T. TILDEN,
World's Tennis Champion, 1920-21
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 18.—Common honesty in every-day life does not allow persons to take that which they know is not their own. There are many ugly words used to describe the practice. In tennis, just as in every-day life, one does not accept what is not his own. If a player is absolutely convinced that a linesman has made a wrong decision in a match, the player, since time is immemorial, has unhesitatingly "thrown" the next point, in the common honesty of returning that which was not rightly his.

The Umpires' Association of the Lawn Tennis Association, and official tennisdom in general, have frowned on this practice, claiming that it held the poor linesmen up to ridicule, that the player throwing the point "played to the gallery" and other misconceptions of the real case. This year the president of the United States Lawn Tennis Association appointed a committee "to investigate and recommend legislation" on a player throwing a point in match play.

IS LAST WORD
Frankly, as much as I appreciate the keen desire on the part of the committee to uplift and protect the ethics of the game, and I quite realize that this is a step in their program to do so, it seems to me the last word in useless waste of time. The whole point of the situation is missed.

The object of tennis is to play the game and find the better man in any given match. It is not to show off the ability of the linesmen to call lines. These men, who have a thankless job, I know, are not infallible. They make mistakes and would be the first to admit it. Sometimes they simply cannot see a shot.

A player knows accurately where a shot strikes, often more accurately than the linesman. If an error is made in his favor which he knows is an injustice to his opponent, he cannot accept the decision without, in common honesty and in accordance with his own self-respect, making what little reparation he can by "throwing" the next point.

NO AMOUNT OF legislation or investigation will change his ethical standard. No sensible linesman would object to a player who would realize that the player was simply rectifying the error. Even if the committee decides that the practice is wrong and decrees that it must be stopped, how can the decision be enforced? A player misses a great many shots during a match. Who is to say which are done intentionally and which not? Will the referee, umpire or your opponent be the final judge of "throwing" a point, should (or will) be declared a professional foul and out of hand?

It would be most disconcerting, after trying a subtle drop shot that immediately falls into the bottom of the net quite by accident, to have the umpire arise and say, "In my opinion Mr. Swatten deliberately threw that point and is therefore declared a professional." Well, I suppose that will hardly occur. But in these days who can tell?

TO CONTINUE SOCCER PLAY

"B" Program to be Strung Out for Several Months;
Important Games Next Sunday

When Sunday's matches are played off, the final standing of all "A" league teams will become history. Each team will have played the others the twice that their schedule calls for without any interruptions or postponements and for these blessings soccerers are duly thankful. Owing to an odd team in their league, the "B" program will have to continue amid clashes with cup-tie fixtures for a couple of months but under the circumstances this is unavoidable.

One rather interesting match will be played toward the end of the season to determine which of the weaker "A" league teams shall be relegated to the "B" division. Under the rules of the S.C.A., the team leading the "B" league at the end of their league schedule will have the right to play the team occupying the cellar of the "A" league. As affairs appear, they will remain in the senior league but if they lose they will be sent down to the "B" division.

Here is going to be the bitterest fight of the year. Nothing except the honor of the teams is at stake. The league cup is clinched by the Los Angeles Athletic Club with the Sons as runners up and L. A. "C" next. But the United team, which they are the unluckiest team this year and they are out to break their link. The Sons are convinced that they should be at the head of the league. Who will win?

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
ANN ARBOR (Mich.) Dec. 18.—Coach Barker of the University of Michigan wrestling team is going to use every agency known to the profession to get the sport on a firm basis in the Wolverine camp this year. In order that he might better teach his green matmen the science of wrestling, Barker has arranged with a moving-picture concern to make a reel that will be shown to the wrestlers before each match.

for Christmas

After all, nothing satisfies like a good cigar. And no cigar satisfies like La Palina. It will please any man. The universal taste appeal of La Palina is one of the biggest things in the annals of tobacco blending and cigar manufacturing. It is one of the reasons why La Palina is the largest selling fine cigar in America.

TO CONTINUE SOCCER PLAY

"B" Program to be Strung Out for Several Months;
Important Games Next Sunday

When Sunday's matches are played off, the final standing of all "A" league teams will become history. Each team will have played the others the twice that their schedule calls for without any interruptions or postponements and for these blessings soccerers are duly thankful. Owing to an odd team in their league, the "B" program will have to continue amid clashes with cup-tie fixtures for a couple of months but under the circumstances this is unavoidable.

One rather interesting match will be played toward the end of the season to determine which of the weaker "A" league teams shall be relegated to the "B" division. Under the rules of the S.C.A., the team leading the "B" league at the end of their league schedule will have the right to play the team occupying the cellar of the "A" league. As affairs appear, they will remain in the senior league but if they lose they will be sent down to the "B" division.

Here is going to be the bitterest fight of the year. Nothing except the honor of the teams is at stake. The league cup is clinched by the Los Angeles Athletic Club with the Sons as runners up and L. A. "C" next. But the United team, which they are the unluckiest team this year and they are out to break their link. The Sons are convinced that they should be at the head of the league. Who will win?

REDLANDS BOWLERS
DOWN PASADENANS

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
REDLANDS, Dec. 18.—Redlands lawn bowlers took the measure of Pasadena rink artists in a match here yesterday, the locals winning by a score of 80 to 78. Pasadena won the first match by a score of 43 to 42. Redlands won the second, 38 to 35. In rink one for Redlands played J. T. Tolle, H. B. Jenkins, R. B. Goodfellow and W. Ferguson. In rink two played J. Y. Atwood, Dr. W. J. Morris, Dr. F. H. Folkins and Alex Rich. Pasadena's rink consisted of E. Armstrong, M. C. Dearing, F. Karl Graeme and M. L. Hooper. Substitutes were G. C. Brockton, E. E. Broderick, G. E. Sucher, Dr. E. C. Hammen, J. B. Vail, D. N. McLeod and S. Skinner.

Land of Beautiful Homes and Prosperous People

TRIANGLE enclosed by lines drawn from Pasadena to Redlands, Redlands to Santa Ana and Santa Ana back to Pasadena contains the most important orange, grapefruit and lemon growing area in California (University of California College of Agriculture Bulletin No. 210, Page 44.) The district within and adjacent to the lines of this triangle is one of the richest agricultural sections of the United States. It is known as the Southern California Orange Empire.

This triangle, 50 miles east of Los Angeles, lies the Fontana, the largest diversified fruit, poultry and live-stock farm in the state. This is a highly cultivated and beautifully developed property of 10,000 square miles, watered by one of the best and most dependable irrigation systems in California, built at a cost of $1,500,000, to drain 100,000 acres of the watershed of the Sierra Madre Mountains.

The Fontana Estate is a community of attractive country homes whose owners are engaged in both fruit growing and poultry raising. The estate produces a few acres of fruit land and one of our model poultry farms produces a sure, steady income under the most pleasant conditions. There are now 2000 people living on the Fontana Estate, making their money in fruit growing and poultry.

Fontana has 5000 acres of orange, grape fruit and lemon groves. It frequently brings premium prices on the Eastern markets. We have a large, modern equipped packing plant owned by the grove owners. A share per acre that packs and ships this fruit. Frost losses have never been sufficient to make it worth while for us to use insurance. Our losses during the worst two freezes in the history of our groves have been practically nothing. We invite an inspection of our groves and packing plant.

Fontana is offering fine, bearing groves of oranges, grapefruit and lemons. $1000 to $1250 per acre, water rights included, in tracts of 5 to 10 and 20-acre tracts.

Fontana is offering juice grape vineyards left at $550 per acre, including water rights.

DIVORCEE SEEKS HEAVY DAMAGES

Declares Pittsburger Made Promise to Wed

Says She Paid Large Sums in Preparation

Won Notoriety for Speeding on Long Island

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—Asserting she expended large sums of money in preparation for her marriage, Mrs. Marion B. Shaw, actress, formerly of 55 West Fifty-fifth street, filed suit in the White Plains Court against Alexander K. Nimick of 318 West Seventy-ninth street, for $100,000 for alleged breach of promise.

Nimick, said to be a widower with two children, is a member of a family prominent in Pittsburg steel enterprises. He was related to the late Andrew Carnegie. His mother, Mrs. Florence Coleman Nimick, who died at Bay Shore, Long Island, in 1910, left her son $100,000.

In many courts Mrs. Shaw, who describes herself as an actress and the divorced wife of "William Shaw, the candyman," recently came into prominence as a result of a penchant for speeding about Long Island roads in a racing roadster, for which she has been summoned to various courts in the Bay Shore and Babylon section within the last two months.

In one instance she was sentenced to serve thirty days in jail for speeding. She was placed on probation in custody of the Patchogue trustee of deed. She was convicted and fined on a disorderly conduct charge a few days later for calling Constable Fred Preston of Patchogue "a silly ass" and a "chick cop" when he arrested her for speeding.

STILL READY In her breach of promise suit Mrs. Shaw charges that between March 1 and September 15 of this year Nimick proposed marriage to her and that she accepted him. She declared they mutually agreed to marry "within a reasonable time."

The complaint filed in connection with the suit continues: "She is still ready to marry him, but he has failed to fix a day for the wedding, although more than a reasonable time has elapsed."

Curtis to Buy 'Evening Post' of New York

(BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE) NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—Negotiations for the sale of the New York Evening Post to Cyrus H. K. Curtis, Philadelphia publisher, are under way, it was admitted today by Edwin F. Gay, publisher of the Post.

It was expected stockholders in the newspaper would meet Friday and probably confirm the sale. Mr. Curtis, it was indicated, would continue to publish the Post as an evening newspaper.

VOLSTEAD UNSHAKEN IN FAITH IN DRY LAW

ENFORCEMENT ACT AUTHOR SAYS IT NEVER WILL BE REPEALED

(BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE) ST. PAUL (Minn.) Dec. 18.—Grown tired of making home brew, the American people are giving up their opposition to prohibition and will never permit the return of liquor, former Congressman Andrew J. Volstead told the Minnesota Law Enforcement Conference at its closing session today.

Mr. Volstead renewed his pledge of faith in the national prohibition law and denounced all who would modify its provisions. He declared that after an expected reaction of the public against prohibition, sentiment is now swinging in the opposite direction. The Eighteenth Amendment will never be repealed and the Volstead Act will never be amended to permit the sale of beer and wine, he asserted.

EXTRADITION OF BOND SALESMAN IS SOUGHT

(BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE) MEDFORD (Or.) Dec. 18.—Dist. Atty. Newton W. Borden is in Sacramento to apply to the Governor of California for extradition papers for W. K. Martin, stock and bond salesman held by Shastate county authorities, at the request of Jackson county on charges of kidnapping, misrepresentation and fraud. Martin resists extradition. It is alleged that Martin sold stock for $100 when it was listed in stock at $22.

Several local and Jackson county persons are said to have invested between $25,000 and $30,000 in the stock at the time. The extradition hearing is scheduled to be heard tomorrow morning in Sacramento.

TRIAL AFTER 35 YEARS

A yellowed petition was handed to Judge James H. Austin in Circuit Court recently. The Judge unfolded the dry paper and noticed the petition was twenty-three years old.

"Are you ready for trial?" he asked. "Ready," responded T. J. Madden, attorney for Edward J. Scanlon, 2760 Bellevue avenue, plaintiff. John Wendorf, an assistant city counselor, made a similar response for the city, which is being sued for $25,000 by Mr. Scanlon for the loss of the services of his son, Cornelius J. Scanlon.

In August, 1890, Cornelius, then about 3 years old, was playing on Drupp street, when he fell into a hole. His legs were crippled, the petition contends. Delays, dismissals and other circumstances have prevented trial.

Cornelius, a city employee, now in his twenty-sixth year, was in court. He walked with crutches. Mr. Scanlon, gray-haired, told his attorney the details of the accident were fresh in his mind. The city, Mr. Wendorf said, would not be hampered in its defense. A jury is being selected. One suit, for $25,000 damages, brought by Mr. Scanlon on behalf of his son, resulted in a verdict for the city.

HE WAS DISTURBED

Dickens used to tell a story of his biographer, John Forster. Forster had a devoted and skillful servant, Henry, who was always most correct in everything he did. It was therefore surprising one night, when Forster was entertaining several writers at dinner, to see the scrupulous Henry make error after error. He upset a plate of soup, and Forster uttered a cry of alarm. He forgot to serve the sauce for the fish, and his master said, "Why, Henry!" Altogether he made the excellent dinner seem a slovenly and poor past. When, at the end he had set the port and waiters on the table, Henry leaned over Forster's chair, and said, in a tremulous voice:

"Please, sir, can you spare me now? My house has been on fire for the last two hours."—(Argonaut.)

Radio Fans Foreign Traders

What has radio got to do with foreign trade? When you listen in for news or amusement broadcast from broadcasting stations, remember that you could not listen in, nor broadcast, but for six imported materials in radio instruments: mahogany from St. Jago, South America; rubber from Brazil or the Far East; platinum from the Ural Mountains, Russia; glass derived from nitrates procured in Chile and Germany; silk from China and Japan, and mica from the mines of India.—(Foreign Trade Bulletin.)

GMC Trucks Show Profits Working Under All Conditions

GMC trucks embody special features of design that give the power, stamina and economy of operation that not only insure a higher earning power under all conditions but larger net profits as well.

1. Bad roads—steep grades, etc. GMC trucks (2 ton size and over) are equipped with the famous GMC two-range transmission. This multiplies the power of an economical engine into pulling power that moves GMC trucks fully loaded wherever wheels can get traction, and at no sacrifice of speed on good roads.

2. Heavy Loads—Every part used in the construction of GMC is built oversize—a safeguard to a long life of usefulness.

3. Long Trips—GMC trucks have a road speed that assures good profits. GMC not only delivers pulling power with the two-range transmission, but speed of travel on the highway is also the maximum that is safe for each capacity.

4. Continuous Service—Because GMC is built with overstrength in every part and because GMC design permits the easy renewal of every wearing part of engine or chassis, GMC gives longer uninterrupted service than is averaged by other trucks.

RAIL COMBINES ARE NECESSARY

Voluntary Consolidation of Companies is Unlikely

Congress Probably Will be Forced to Take Action

Private Owners Naturally in Opposition to Plan

BY FREDERICK J. HASKIN

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—If the railroads of the country will not voluntarily effect combinations establishing a few great systems, as contemplated by the Transportation Act of 1920, then consolidation must be forced on them by Congress. This is accepted as the administration program for dealing with the railroad problem in view of what President Coolidge had to say about it in his message and of Secretary of Commerce Hoover's discussion of it in his annual report.

Secretary Hoover not only argues for the necessity of consolidation, but outlines a definite method by which it may be brought about. That this method will be embodied in bills that will be passed for speedy consideration in both houses of Congress is taken for granted.

The Hoover plan contemplates the Federal incorporation of the consolidated railroad systems, and would provide that after the lapse of a reasonable period for voluntary action by the railroads the Interstate Commerce Commission should be empowered to create definite organization committees for each system contemplated. These committees would include representatives of the public and of the component roads.

COMMITTEE DUTY
"It should be the duty of such committees," says Mr. Hoover, "to develop and perfect a plan of consolidation either through the exchange of securities of the consolidated systems directly with the security holders of the component roads, or by some other method. I believe that under such auspices the security holders would be willing voluntarily to make such an exchange. If a minority should refuse, it would be entirely feasible to invoke condemnation and purchase of their securities for the consolidated systems at an established fair value. Such a method would permit the determination of the relative value of the different railroads considered both the physical properties and the often lower total of their securities, and due account should be taken of future as well as present conditions."

The Secretary of Commerce offers a new suggestion in connection with his plan, pointing out that it could be provided that some roads or terminals could be held jointly by two or more of the consolidated systems, as there are situations where such a connection would be most advisable in creating more efficient transportation. He also states that the public interest could be safeguarded by limiting the total capitalization of the consolidated systems to an amount not exceeding the physical value of the railroads.

PRIVATE OWNERS OPPOSE
The private owners of the railroads, or at least those who occupy positions of managerial responsibility of the more important lines, are generally opposed to consolidation. At least, they have made it clear that they do not purpose taking advantage of the permission to combine which was a feature of the law passed in 1920. The big financial interests that dictate railroad policy in the United States apparently do not deem it desirable to strengthen the weaker roads at the expense of the stronger.

When transportation rates are fixed at levels which permit all the railroads to earn 4 1/2 or 5 per cent it is obvious that the larger roads will earn more than that and enjoy a measure of prosperity that will make their securities decidedly popular in Wall street. It is equally obvious that railway management does not want rates reduced, and when the advocates of consolidation offer as the first argument in support of their proposal that it will bring about an immediate lowering of tariffs it is not surprising that the private owners are stirred to opposition.

JUST EXPERIMENT

It is not known at this time, of course, how bitter or how strong this opposition will be, and it is possible that it may be minimized by the direct or indirect threat of government ownership. A situation may develop where the private owners and their representatives will be told, or will be made to see, that if they do not accept consolidation upon them as the only alternative solution of the transportation problem.

As it is, there is an element in Congress that now takes the position that consolidation will be an experiment that will only defer the day when the government must take over and operate the railroads. Senator Charles McNary of Michigan is named as one of the leading opponents of this idea. He has said repeatedly that he does not favor government ownership, but that he cannot see anything else that can be done.

FORD IN OPPOSITION

Henry Ford, who is rarely in harmony with anything that is favored by the great financial interests centering in New York, in this situation is lined up with them in opposition to the consolidation program. Mr. Ford does not want his railroad combined with any other road, and he has made this statement most emphatically to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

It is said that when Mr. Ford acquired his railroad he did so not merely in order to be able to haul his own coal from his own mines in Kentucky to his Detroit plants or to get more advantageous rates on his manufactured products, but that he might give the country a demonstration of how a railroad ought to be operated to give the public the maximum service at the minimum charge. The silver king had the idea that he could contribute toward the solution of the transportation problem by conducting a practical experiment.

Young Divorcee in Lobby Attack May Face Trial

FRESNO, Dec. 18.—Mrs. Althea Mundie, pretty 27-year-old Kansas City divorcee, who several days ago shot and wounded Floyd C. Streiter, night clerk of the Palace Hotel, in the hotel lobby, and then fired a bullet into her own head in an attempt at suicide, faces trial today for assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder, following a report from surgeons at the County Hospital that there has been a turn for the better in her condition and that she will probably recover.

WIDOW FACES NEW CHARGE

Prosecutor Will Ask Jury to Indict Mrs. Potegian for Murder of Husband as Well as Girl

FRESNO, Dec. 18.—The Fresno county grand jury will be asked on January 3 to return a second murder indictment against Mrs. Elias Potegian, who will go to trial February 4 before Superior Judge Woolley on a charge of killing her 18-year-old stepdaughter, Margaret Potegian, by feeding her an okra stew seasoned with arsenic last August in an attempt to do away with the girl and her 21-year-old brother. The youth, Georken Potegian, was made violently ill but recovered.

Announcement of these arrangements was made today by Dist. Atty. Lovejoy. The second bill will charge Mrs. Potegian with murder of her husband, Setrak Potegian, who died under mysterious circumstances on June 25, and whose body, which was exhumed several weeks ago in the presence of a coroner's jury, was reported by Prof. Robert E. Swain of Stanford University to have shown the presence of arsenic.

Lovejoy announced today that he will leave two witnesses at the trial to support his plea for another indictment. If the true bill is brought an application will be made by Lovejoy to have the two indictments consolidated and heard at the same time when Mrs.

Requisition is Refused for Man Held in Missouri

BAKERSFIELD, Dec. 18.—The Governor's office at Sacramento has declined to issue a request on the Governor of Missouri for the return to Kern county of M. M. Prewitt, wanted by local officers on a failure to provide charge and for whom a bench warrant recently was issued in Superior Court because of Prewitt leaving the State, instead of remaining here and providing for his family as ordered by the court.

The Governor's office informed Deputy Sheriff Shomate that inasmuch as Prewitt had been within the jurisdiction of the courts and had been allowed to get away again, and as the State officers had no assurance that Prewitt would not be paroled again and allowed to escape, they would have to deny the application for requisition. Prewitt had at one time expressed his willingness to return to Kern county without the formal process of a requisition, but had no doubt learned of the State officials' decision and will now decline to return to the jurisdiction of the courts here, officers say.

AGED VETERAN STARVES SELF

Gives Pension to Others and Dies in Poverty

Spent Last Years of Life in Almost Dire Need

Money Went to Support of Two Poor Women

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 18.—Living in abject poverty, an 80-year-old Civil War veteran spent all but a few pennies of the pension money he had received from the government for others, who needed it more than he.

This was disclosed when the veteran, Harry Smith, was found dead in the small room he occupied in a house at 312 North Seventh street. He served during the war, according to papers found on his body, as a sergeant in the Second Recruiting Company, General Service Infantry.

Grief over the death last week of Mrs. Anna Morrison, 70, who roomed in a house on Seventh street near Callowhill, and to whom the aged veteran carried supplies purchased with money he saved by doing without food, is believed to have hastened his death, together with his meager meals.

The story of the sacrifices of the aged man for his friends was unfolded by police. They were notified of his death by Mrs. Elizabeth Arnold, proprietress of the house in which Smith lived. She found him dead early today.

MONTHLY CHECK
The veteran received a monthly check from the government for $24.50. After cashing this he would then pay $8 monthly rent for his room, and then provide food for Mrs. Morrison and another aged woman, Mrs. Maggie McBride, who lived with her.

Police believe a romance had grown between the veteran and Mrs. Morrison, due to his generosity to her and her friend.

Last week when she died Smith, who had been ill several months, became worse.

Max Marcus, proprietor of a restaurant at 243 North Twelfth street, who cashed many of Smith's pension checks, several days ago

BEAUTY FIGHTS FOR MILLIONS

Father Says Charm Caused Husband's Happiness

Fifth Wife in Battle to Hold Huge Estate

Previous Families to Seek Share of Wealth

DETROIT, Dec. 18.—A constant seeker of beauty and happiness was the late Walter E. Flanders, millionaire motor-car manufacturer, whose lifelong quest for the ideal in womanhood was satisfied only by his fifth and last wife, the former Norma Meyer, one-time artist model and expert swimmer, her father, Henry W. Meyer, said at his daughter's home, 54 Farrand court, Highland Park.

It was to his fifth wife Flanders left the bulk of his wealth. She has brought suit petitioning that the Chicago Trust Company be removed as executor of her husband's estate, she will contest his father's will. The daughter of the first marriage was given a legacy of $100,000. The third wife was Ella Penny Flanders, now superintendent of scrub-women in a downtown office building. The fourth wife was Hazel Dobson, daughter of a Detroit junkdealer. She later was married to P. C. Newman, a San Francisco attorney. She is seeking a settlement for her five children. A woman who terms herself Flanders's common-law wife, Annabelle Esel, 5400 Burke avenue, also is seeking a share in the estate.

"All his life he looked for happiness," the father-in-law, a handsome white-haired man and a life-long resident of Detroit, said today.

"He found it in Norma; they loved each other devotedly. But life is like that. When we find contentment and happiness, so often death takes us, as if it were jealous of our joy. I am like that now—nothing to worry about, and perhaps my time is near."

RECALLS WISHES
"Walter Flanders left my daughter the bulk of his estate because he loved her, because in her he often said he found the ideal he had searched for all his life. He intended she should have his wealth. It was his express wish and he often said he believed he had completely safeguarded that wish."

"Norma is fighting these claims because she knows he would wish her to do so. She knows it would be his wish to see his desires carried out. It is his own business, but she must go through with it for the sake of her own peace of mind, in fairness to him."

"Walter Flanders was one of the kindest and most brilliant men I have ever known. He was a man Norma loved him and he loved her because she is a brilliant and talented woman."

"This business of her 'vamping' the family out of their millions is silly and evil. She made Walter Flanders a good, loyal wife. She is heartbroken at the publicity and the blot on the name of her husband, which everybody seems bound to bring. It is nobody's business, this court fight. It is a family affair."

So the family of Norma Meyer Flanders, now 28 years of age, stands by her in her attempt to fight the other wives and children of the millionaire. Here is a story of Cinderella, the daughter of a beautiful girl, daughter of a watchmaker, who was graduated from an Eastern high school in 1918. She was a model for artists, expert swimmer, and adept at her studies, and it was the charm of brains and beauty. It is declared, which captured the late Mr. Flanders.

Suits and counter suits are pending against the estate of the automobile king. One suit pending in Chicago was brought against the estate by George Flanders, son of Flanders's second wife, and Mrs. Hazel Dobson, Flanders Newman, his fourth wife.

Mrs. Flanders, her father said, is in Chicago superintending the fight.

DORIS KEANE SUE BY DISMISSED SURGEON

DAMAGES OF $20,000 ASKED WHEN STAR CHANGES HER MIND

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—Charge-ing that he journeyed to Paris from New York to perform an operation upon Mrs. Doris Keane Sidney, known on the stage as Doris Keane, only to have her change her mind after his arrival, Dr. F. A. Locke, a surgeon, filed suit today asking $20,000 damages from the actress. Dr. Locke lists his traveling expenses as $1,085, and the cost of the operation, if he had performed it, as $20,000, crediting Miss Keane with $1000 paid on account.

Dr. Locke alleges that he went in answer to a cable from Miss Keane stating that his services were immediately necessary. The nature of the operation is not stated. The suit was instituted in Ulster county where Dr. Locke has a country place at Rhinecliff, but transferred to New York county upon motion of Ernst, Fox and Kane, attorneys for the defendant.

CHINA BUYS PLANES TO START AIR FLEET

TO START AIR FLEET

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS)
GENEVA, Dec. 18.—A Chinese officer who had just obtained a pilot's certificate at the military aerodrome at Dubendorf, near Zurich, bought on behalf of the government several fast airplanes and two hydro-airplanes, which, after being tested, will be shipped to China under convoy of Chinese officers. It is understood that China has decided to form an air fleet and will buy more machines in America later.

CLAIMS ANNOUNCED AGAINST GERMANY

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Twelve awards, totaling approximately $1,000,000, were announced this morning by the Mixed Claims Commission in favor of American claimants against Germany for property losses sustained during the war. The largest awards were to the Standard Oil Company of New York, $900,000, and the Remington Typewriter Company, $40,000.

LOOKED FOR PEACE
Flanders's first wife was Helen Welby of Waynesboro, Pa.; the second was Annie Carter Flanders, whose son, George, is contesting his father's will. The daughter of the first marriage was given a legacy of $100,000. The third wife was Ella Penny Flanders, now superintendent of scrub-women in a downtown office building. The fourth wife was Hazel Dobson, daughter of a Detroit junkdealer. She later was married to P. C. Newman, a San Francisco attorney. She is seeking a settlement for her five children. ## A terrific wind —it wrecked roofs!

A costly lesson! But many home and building owners learned last week that cheaply made, poorly laid roofing is mighty costly.

All newly laid roofs look good. And owners are prone to boast of the money they "saved." But when a strong wind tears the flimsy material loose--when a driving rain leaks through a dozen weak spots--then they see their mistake.

Experienced builders--who want their buildings to last--make sure of the roof. They use the finest quality roofing obtainable--and over 25,000 buildings in Los Angeles are permanently protected by Weaver Roofing.

ASK FARMER ON SHIPPING BOARD

Plan Urged in Foreign Trade Parley Resolution

Favor Preferential Laws in Merchant Marine

Program Opposed to Subsidy Briefly Outlined

(BY A. P. NIGER WRITER)
OMAHA, Dec. 18.—An appointment of a farmer as the Middle West's representative on the United States Shipping Board was asked in a resolution adopted here today at the closing session of a foreign trade conference, conducted under auspices of the Farmers' Manufacturers' Foreign Trade Association.

Establishment of a sturdy American merchant marine, not by subsidy but by preferential legislation in favor of American ships, was endorsed in another resolution. The conference urged equalization of import and export rates between all ports and the Central West; establishment of lower ocean rates to and from South Atlantic and Gulf ports; establishment of additional trade routes; extension of the sea base inland by opening the Great Lakes to ocean commerce and by development of inland waterways, and co-ordination of inland and ocean transportation.

The resolution on the appointment of a farmer on the Shipping Board declared that "in view of the fact that farm products constitute about 10 per cent of the exports of the United States, the farmer is more directly interested in the merchant marine than any other single industry."

In going on record in favor of an American merchant marine "without subsidy," the conference submitted a plan whereby it believes such marine could be maintained without governmental financial aid. The plan includes a system of lower ocean rates on goods and lower rail rates for goods and passengers carried on American ships; lower tonnage dues for American bottoms; laws compelling American officials to use United States vessels when traveling at government expense; the granting of permission to railroads to apply export rates on materials used in the construction of American ships and on supplies used therein; laws requiring a certain percentage of American immigrants to be carried on American ships, and the use by American shippers, in so far as possible, of American vessels in shipping products abroad.

ALLEY CAT'S DAUGHTER IS SHOW QUEEN

Snooper Girl Takes Blue Ribbon at Atlantic Club Show in Waldorf Astoria

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—Even an alley cat's daughter may look like a queen. Like her father before her, who was rescued from an ash-barrel existence to win a first prize at the Atlantic Cat Club Show last year, Snooper Girl purred with feline happiness when judges at the twenty-second show of the same club pinned a blue ribbon on her green collar at the Waldorf Astoria yesterday.

Her 12-year-old master, Joseph Franconia, stood by gleaming at his pet "no she won't be lonesome," he explained. "And she ain't an alley cat, neither," he declared. "She's got a pedigree, she has. Didn't her father win a prize, too?"

Snooper Boy, the present champion father, turned up, wet and bedraggled, at the Franconia home last year. Joseph and his younger sister, Antoinette, fed him, and with a dollar, saved from spending money, entered their pet in the annual cat show a year ago. The alley prowler won first prize. Snooper Boy died recently.

MEETING TO ATTACK COAL MINE HAZARDS

STABILIZING OF EMPLOYMENT ALSO ON LEGISLATION PROGRAM

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—A program for preventing fatal explosions and other accidents in coal mines, and plans in use in American industries for stabilizing business so as to insure steady employment, will be discussed by leading authorities at the seventeenth annual meeting of the American Association for Labor Legislation to take place in Washington on the 27th, 28th and 29th inst. It was announced at the association's national headquarters here tonight by Secretary John B. Andrews.

At a session on stabilizing employment, Judge William S. Kenyon will discuss the proposals for a Federal public works policy. Horace B. Drury of the Institute of Economics will present findings on the social cost of irregular employment in coal mining. Fred C. Butler, manager of the Cleveland Garment Manufacturers' Association, and Earl Dean Howard of Hart, Schaffner & Marx are on the program to describe plans for guaranteeing regular employment and for unemployment insurance now in effect in the garment and clothing industries. Ernest G. Draper, president of the American Crocheting Company, will preside.

"CARMEN" BALKS JAPANESE

Four Attempts to Stage Tragic Opera Fail in Face of Natural and Official Opposition

(BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
TOKIO, Dec. 18.—"Carmen" continues to be as elusive as ever for Japanese. On four distinct occasions during the last five years attempts were made to stage this musical gem on a large scale, Japanese words having been substituted for the original ones. The first time it was to be staged the leading lady who was to take the role of Carmen committed suicide over grief that a young professor of the Tokio Imperial University, who had been instrumental in writing out the Japanese version of the opera, died. The suicide took place two days before the opera was to be put on the boards, and as there was no understudy to the main

tures had been installed in the theater, everything was in readiness for the performance. In readiness faulty electric wiring led to a conflagration that burned the playhouse to the ground. The most recent occasion when Carmen against defied Japanese actors and actresses was on the fateful September 1 of this year. Talented men and women of the Tokio Imperial Theater made all arrangements to stage the opera there on September 1. Noon that day brought the gigantic earth convulsions and by 4 o'clock the same evening the Imperial Theater was blazing like a bonfire.

FIRE BURNS THEATER
On another occasion efforts were made to stage the tragedy at the Kinjuku-kwan Theater in Asakusa Park, the Coney Island of Tokio. Everything was in order and nothing untoward happened until about 8 p.m. of the day on which the opera was to be produced. Special lighting fixtures had been installed in the theater, and everything was in readiness for the performance. In readiness faulty electric wiring led to a conflagration that burned the playhouse to the ground. The most recent occasion when Carmen against defied Japanese actors and actresses was on the fateful September 1 of this year. Talented men and women of the Tokio Imperial Theater made all arrangements to stage the opera there on September 1. ## LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

In reaction to the spirited advance of the previous day, oil stocks turned downward yesterday on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange, the declines ranging from 3 points to small fractions, and in some instances, cancelling the increases registered on Monday.

Standard and Union Oil of California receded the greatest amounts. The former stock started at 60 1/2, and finished at 59, or 1 1/2 points from the previous day, and the latter dropped 2 points to 112. Beginning at 36, General Petroleum common closed at 35 1/2, loss from Monday of 1/2, while Shell Union at 16 was behind 1/2 of a point. United Oil lost 1/4 at 24 1/2.

Mining shares were neglected with the exception of activity in Gold Dust, which finished 1 cent lower at 5. Telluride declined 1/2 cent to 19, and United Eastern, on a few sales, advanced 3 cents to 21. Sales were recorded in Virginia Louise at 2 1/2 cents.

San Joaquin series C-6 of 1920 opened strong at 97, but declined the day at 96 1/2, unchanged. Union of California 6s of 1921 were firm at 94 1/2 as were Edison 6s of 1923 at 93 1/2.

NEW YORK CURB

INVENTORIES ON TOBACCO ASKED

Manufacturers Here Are to Prepare Reports

Government Seeks Sworn Stock Statement

Cigars, Cigarettes, Snuff Are Included

Local manufacturers of tobacco, snuff, cigars and cigarettes will be interested in a ruling received yesterday from Washington by the internal revenue department requiring them to make inventories on January 1, 1934, in accordance with the provisions of law.

Every person in the district now or hereafter engaged in such manufacture must make and deliver under oath to the collector a true inventory of the quantity of each of the different kinds of tobacco, snuff, cigars, cigarettes, stems, scraps, clippings, waste, tin foil, licorice, sugar, gum and other materials held or owned by him on the first day of January, 1934, in accordance with the provisions of law.

The ruling also applies to manufacturers of cigars and cigarettes. Persons dealing in leaf tobacco are also required to file with the collector a sworn statement of the different kinds of tobacco held or owned, and where stored by them.

These inventories are required to be made before the commencement of business on the date specified, and forms for making such statements are being mailed to all dealers in tobacco in the district at the address last given. Inventories for dealers in tobacco must be dated January 1, 1934, but may be filed up to January 15.

The failure to receive the forms does not relieve the dealer from making the inventory required, and if not received forms may be obtained at the internal revenue office. Persons dealing in tobacco in any form should inform themselves of these new rulings, and thus avoid the penalties which are required to be assessed in cases where there is refusal or neglect to comply with the provisions of the law.

D. N. SHREVE, STRICKEN ON STREET; DIES

Long Beach Man Widely Known for Philanthropy and as Publisher

David N. Shreve, 54 years of age, author of a number of philanthropic works and widely known for his philanthropic activities, died yesterday at the Receiving Hospital. He was stricken while walking on Fourth street, between Broadway and Spring, and expired a few minutes after reaching the hospital. Death was ascribed to heart disease and acute indigestion.

Mr. Shreve had been a resident of Long Beach for the past fourteen years. He was publisher of the World Wide Magazine and was also interested in a number of wells at Signal Hill. He had just left the local office of Gov. Richardson, where he had gone to intercede for a prisoner serving a term at San Quentin, when he was stricken.

The body was removed to the Mattell mortuary at Long Beach. Mr. Shreve leaves a widow and four children.

An Ohio inventor's see-saw for children can be raised or lowered to its standard to suit the size of a user.

FILM OUTPUT TO BE RECORD

Mr. Low, who leaves for New York tomorrow, announced that Rex Ingram will return to Hollywood early in the spring, as soon as he completes making the desert picture he is now filming in Egypt, and will at once start work upon the production of a film version of "The World's Illusion," a novel by Wasserman, the Austrian author. The adaptation is, however, being prepared by Willis Goldbeck.

"We shall have to continue to watch the outside field, and then employ men who have shown promise," he said. "We cannot experiment with untied men, for we have too immense a chain of theaters to risk having to offer to them a series of mediocre productions."

SAYS STUDIOS WILL REMAIN

scattering of studios in several cities would be a bad move for all concerned—in fact it would be almost impossible.

Mr. Schenck also denied having made statements attributed to him by the New York newspaper concerning the supposed soaring of production costs here, and fatal extravagances.

"The matter of production costs is one that every producer must work out for himself, but I know where I speak when I say that films cannot be made as cheaply elsewhere as they can here where production is constant, ready, and efficient."

"I have no personal knowledge of these supposedly mounting production costs or of asserted extravagances. Pictures cost a lot of money, of course, and some cost more than others. You cannot make good pictures with a cost scale in one hand because pictures to be good must deal with intangible things like artistry, temperament and prolonged and sincere endeavor."

"We know, we picture people, that there is no intent to discriminate against us. We know that the people of Los Angeles as individuals like to have us here. We know that the business men and women and the fine elements of citizenship generally deplore the seeming discrimination of officials as greatly as we deplore it, and we know that they mean what they say when they tell us that they will join hands with us to see that no more intended or petty affronts come our way."

around the counter. When Miss Robinson attempted to interfere the bandit ordered her out of the way and snatched his commands with a gun, which he had kept concealed under his coat.

The other girl, in the front of the shop, was ordered to stay where she was and not to make any outcry. The bandit then walked to the cash register and attempted to open it. However, he experienced difficulty with the mechanism.

"Open it," he said, turning to Miss Robinson.

"For a moment the girl hesitated, she said:

"Open it," commanded the bandit again, the tone of his voice indicating business. The girl obeyed. "I think he would have shot if I hadn't," she told the detectives.

After looting the drawer the stick-up man retreated toward the front door, keeping one eye on the girls and a hand on the gun in his pocket. He disappeared in the crowd, making his way toward Broadway on Sixth street. The girls ran after him, hoping to keep him in sight until they could find an officer, but he eluded pursuit.

Did you ever stop to consider that all of us who are over 40 years of age can distinctly remember the time when there were no automobiles, no flying machines, no telephones, no phonographs, no typewriters, and electric light was a novelty but few of us had seen. Judged by present standards, life was crude forty years ago, and people worked much harder to make a living, and to cents was a whole dime so that when we went anywhere we took along lunch as we did to spend the time; and then the person with $200 in the bank was looked upon as something of a capitalist.—(Warroad (Minn.) CONCERT FOR PARK

A varied musical program will be presented by Herb Wiedoeft and his orchestra during the public concert at Lincoln Park Sunday afternoon. Many new numbers composed and arranged by Gene Rose, pianist-composer with the Wiedoeft organization, will be featured. Several new arrangements of Christmas carols are to be featured in conjunction with solos by Jess Sigford, Gene Sigford and Jo Miel. Herb Wiedoeft and Jess Sigford will render "Silent Night" as a trumpet and trombone duet.

BANDIT ROBS STORE WITH CROWD NEAR

Holds Up Two Girls and Empties Cash Register in Downtown Shop

Entering See's Candy Shop at 323 West Sixth street, while the 5 o'clock crowds filled the street outside, a young bandit yesterday walked behind the counter, and, after threatening two young women employees with a revolver, helped himself to $45 in currency and made good his escape.

Opal Robinson and Grace Davidson, in charge of the shop, declared to Detectives Wilde and Burthe, who investigated, that the thief entered the store when no other customers were present, walked rapidly to the rear and around the counter. When Miss Robinson attempted to interfere the bandit ordered her out of the way and snatched his commands with a gun, which he had kept concealed under his coat.

PORT GETS SHIP LINE TERMINUS

Trans-Pacific Company is First to Operate Direct From Local Harbor

Los Angeles' first trans-Pacific steamship line will commence operations in the very near future, according to an announcement made yesterday at the meeting of the harbor and foreign trade committee of the Chamber of Commerce, by M. G. Linder, assistant general freight agent for the Struthers & Barry Company, the concern that is instituting the service. The line is one operated for the Shipping Board by Struthers & Barry. It is understood that service will be provided by eight vessels.

All the ships have been calling at Los Angeles while in the Shipping Board service, but San Francisco has been the eastern terminus of the line. The new arrangement makes the line a Los Angeles institution. The vessels vary in size from approximately 3500 to 4500 tons net. They are the S.S. West Carmona, S.S. West Montop, S.S. West Cactus, S.S. West Ivan, S.S. West Sequana, S.S. West Prospect, S.S. West Chopaka and the S.S. West Faron.

The service to be handled from this port will include most of the important Chinese ports, Manila, Singapore, Batavia, Saigon and others.

WARNING IS ISSUED TO BUSINESS MEN

A warning to business men against fake solicitors seeking donations for a magazine to be devoted to anti-bulb law propaganda was issued yesterday by Secretary Zeehandelaar of the Manufacturers' Association. Mr. Zeehandelaar stated that the organization has given no one authority to seek funds in its name.

STUDENT MISSING

Kenneth L. Hutton, 17 years of age and a Le Conte junior high school student, disappeared from his home 5817 Caglion way last Sunday morning and has not been seen since, according to a report made to the police by his mother. The boy has a pronounced English accent and it is thought he may attempt to ship out on some vessel at Los Angeles Harbor.

All the ships have been calling at Los Angeles while in the Shipping Board service, but San Francisco has been the eastern terminus of the line. The new arrangement makes the line a Los Angeles institution. The vessels vary in size from approximately 3500 to 4500 tons net. They are the S.S. West Carmona, S.S. West Montop, S.S. West Cactus, S.S. West Ivan, S.S. West Sequana, S.S. West Prospect, S.S. West Chopaka and the S.S. West Faron.

The service to be handled from this port will include most of the important Chinese ports, Manila, Singapore, Batavia, Saigon and others.

A warning to business men against fake solicitors seeking donations for a magazine to be devoted to anti-bulb law propaganda was issued yesterday by Secretary Zeehandelaar of the Manufacturers' Association. Mr. Zeehandelaar stated that the organization has given no one authority to seek funds in its name.

Kenneth L. Hutton, 17 years of age and a Le Conte junior high school student, disappeared from his home 5817 Caglion way last Sunday morning and has not been seen since, according to a report made to the police by his mother. The boy has a pronounced English accent and it is thought he may attempt to ship out on some vessel at Los Angeles Harbor.

Los Angeles' first trans-Pacific steamship line will commence operations in the very near future, according to an announcement made yesterday at the meeting of the harbor and foreign trade committee of the Chamber of Commerce, by M. ## TOYS PILED FOR JUBILEE OF JOY

The street will be roped off so that the kiddies may be safe from any passing traffic. There's a special upstairs waiting room for parents and guardians who accompany the children to wait while the youngsters see the show.

FOR YOUNG AND YOUNGER

For the younger children the show will end at 6 o'clock. In the evening the older children will have their opportunity for fun, special program consisting of scores of offerings has been arranged; and a hundred prominent movie stars will be on hand to give greeting. Santa Claus in the person of Ole Harlan will distribute the gifts and a ten-piece jazz band will make things merry. Tomorrow the detailed arrangements for the party will be re-told in full, so that every mother and father and child may know just what to expect in this greatest of Christmas celebrations.

Los Angeles will be the scene of a new play, with new scenes given their try-out here in New York, if the word of Sam H. Harris, noted theatrical manager, can be trusted.

Mr. Harris, who is at the moment, arrived in Los Angeles today to confer with his partner, Thomas Wilkes, manager of the Majestic Theater, in regard to new play to be presented in the near future.

PLAYS MAY BE TRIED OUT HERE

Theatrical Center in City Planned by Producer

Now Harris Conferring With Thomas Wilkes Here

Local Audiences Are Truly Cosmopolitan

Los Angeles will become a theatrical center, with new plays being given their try-out here instead of New York, if the plans of Mr. Harris, noted New York theatrical manager, can be carried out.

Mr. Harris, who is at the Ambassador hotel in Los Angeles yesterday, is conferring with his partner, Thomas Wilkes, manager of the Theatre, in regard to a new play to be presented here in the near future.

"We are contemplating the presentation of six new plays in Los Angeles during the coming year," said Mr. Harris. "We have induced a number of stars to leave Broadway and come out here to play the new plays in the spring stage season, San Francisco, will be out here to direct the work of preparation for these plays."

Mr. Harris stated that he had already demonstrated to his own satisfaction the practicability of opening a new play in Los Angeles, especially in that connection, "The Nervous Wreck," which he presented and proved a success here and later was shown in New York to crowded houses for several periods.

"I have come to the conclusion that if a play is popular in Los Angeles it will be equally successful in New York," said Mr. Harris. "This has been demonstrated a number of times. As a matter of fact there is no difference between the audiences of the two cities. Both are equally cosmopolitan."

Mr. Harris has a share in the better of New York in this respect.

POSTOFFICE SETS RECORD

Monday Figures Higher Than for Entire Year of 1888, or Total of $65,000

A record of business hung up by the Los Angeles postoffice Monday is likely to stand for some time—unless, possibly, the figures for yesterday, not yet available, should exceed it.

The total stamp sales for Tuesday were $65,000, which is $14,000 more than the high-point during 1922.

This means that more money was taken in at the main office and the stations on Monday than the entire sales during the twelve months of 1888.

The grand total of $100,149.22 was not reached until two years later, in 1890.

The holiday mail from the East began to pour into the city yesterday, and the resources of the post office, which has been increased by the addition of new distribution machinery inaugurated by Postmaster O'Brien, were pushed to the utmost. Forty car loads of holiday gifts reached Los Angeles yesterday.

The reports from the various substations indicate that the rush is likely to continue for several days more. The splendid weather has contributed much to the growth of the postal funds, and it would seem that every one of the 3,000,000 or more citizens of Los Angeles was intent upon remembering the folks back East and elsewhere with souvenirs of the holiday season.

SON OF EAST AND WEST IS SHIP'S HERO

Arthur Leland Fong, Dead in Wreck, Was Figure in Maritime Annals

Arthur Leland Fong, the heroic young wireless operator who went to his death when the steamer C. A. Smith sank at the entrance to Coos Bay, was one of the most picturesque figures in maritime annals.

The full history of the courageous operator, who for a time refused to leave the stricken vessel because he feared he would handicap his companions in their fight for their lives, was revealed yesterday by H. D. Hicker, superintendent of the rehabilitation division of the State Vocational Education Department.

Mr. Hicker stated that Fong was half Chinese and half white, but because of his Caucasian features generally passed as a white man. Some two years ago, Mr. Hicker said, the youth lost both his legs in a motorcycle accident near San Dimas. A Pacific Electric car struck the machine, severing both the youth's legs.

This failed to daunt the youth. Mr. Hicker said he applied to the rehabilitation division for training and in a few months qualified as a first-class wireless operator. Since completing the course he had been constantly employed on vessels plying the Pacific and Atlantic and from his salary succeeded in paying off the expenses he had contracted in study.

The youth's mother, Mr. Hicker said, is now the wife of Prof. Kuno of the University of California. Previously she had been married to a Chinese educator and Fong was born of this union. Some months ago Mrs. Kuno wrote a series of articles for newspapers in which she told of her experiences and life with her first husband.

Dispatches say that Fong was drowned together with eight other men who had attempted to rescue him from the sinking vessel. He refused to leave the ship at first because he feared that he would handicap his companions by his inability to walk and care for himself. Later another boat was dispatched to take him and the other men off, but this capsize.

PROBATION REFUSED

Court Sentences Cook Accused of Passing Bad Checks

James C. Harris, 27 years of age, a cook, was yesterday sentenced to Folsom penitentiary by Judge Avery, who denied his application for probation. Harris was accused on three counts of issuing fictitious checks, and according to the probation department's report, he has a past criminal record. Harris was formerly employed in Fresno. The charge carries a penalty of from one to ten years in the State prison.

CHRIST TRUE IDEA OF LOVE

Science Speaker Explains Church

Happiness Possible Congregation Told

W. Porter Delivers Address Here

William W. Porter, C.S.B., member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., delivered the last of a series of lectures on Christian Science at Thirteenth Church of Christ, Scientist, Los Angeles.

The lecturer spoke in part as follows:

The presentation of Christian Science today, as throughout its history, is strengthened by the fact that no person is expected to accept any part of this science of salvation otherwise than appeals to thought through the unimpaired logic of reason; and let it here be stated that revelation itself is a process of understanding, which is led by the true idea of love, out of the dim chambers of mysticism into the mount of truth where the nature of truth appears.

Read in the Scriptures: "He that loveth his word, and healed them." The solution for every problem is in the divine Mind. Because of the nature of the divine Mind, it is not to be recognized, to be with infinite Love. That is, is it not? Hence the word of the divine Mind exists, and with Key to the Scriptures, by Baker Eddy, the discoverer of Christian Science, the founder of the most concise statement of the most profound truth, "Love is reflected in love," a definite statement of undivided Love. Let us control our thinking for a moment. God is Love. When the true idea of a present in your health, your mind, your home, your sense of control, by the law of Love or God.

INSTANT FULFILLMENT

One may begin at this moment to experience the fulfillment of his dreams. Regardless of mental consciousness may about you for sin, sickness, sorrow, you may at once experience freedom from evil by holding your thought related to God. Page 466 of Science and Health is to be found the following definition of God: "God is infinite, divine, supreme, infinite Spirit, Soul, Principle, Life, Love, When you think of God in the light of this definition, you will be surprised and will learn how constantly this definition will be with you—you will find peace in wonder and joy in the true idea of God, the grandeur of God's nature, the power, the thought, the truth, the universe."

THE UNIVERSE

When you think of God as the Father, Mother, and the universe throughout the world without end, when you realize that Love is governing just as much to the space or to the order of the seasons, you will find your day is much brighter, and conditions are different. Confidence is growing, and fear is held away, that evil is leaving you, that good is coming, distinctly attractive, and your influence and usefulness are finding expression in the healing of good. In 1866 from a so-called infirmity was to her the fulfillment of promise, or revelation to Mrs. Eddy the revelation that a healing influence is associated with God. With this great strong desire to learn, Mrs. Eddy had been wrought to the point of bringing this revelation to those who suffered.

LAUDS LINEMEN'S HEROISM

Edison Company Manager Gives Full Credit for Continued Service in Storm

A story of unrivaled gallantry and courage on the part of workmen employed in commercial pursuits was told yesterday by Benjamin F. Pearson, manager of operations for the Southern California Edison Company, in describing the efforts of the company to keep its lines and plants intact during the terrific windstorm which swept Southern California from the 17th through the 19th inst.

The windstorm was the most severe which has been known here since the company has known, he said. It tore down lines, uprooted power poles and generally worked havoc with the company's service. Only through the most heroic efforts and the display of unexampled courage by the workmen was the company enabled to continue its service through this period. At many points, especially around the base of Mt. Wilson, the wind attained a velocity of from seventy to eighty miles an hour. The workmen who labored to restore the lines were in constant danger. Scores of them labored for forty-eight to seventy-two hours without sleep, and with only such food as the company was able to provide them in the field.

GIVES FULL CREDIT

Numerous instances of individual bravery were narrated by Mr. Pearson, who gave entire credit for the fact that the company made good in the emergency to the men who struggled under his direction. "To increase the danger of the situation and render our work more difficult, numerous trees broke out and were felled by the terrific wind, which seemed to grow in violence every hour," Mr. Pearson stated.

AIRED FIRE FIGHTERS

"While the men were primarily at work righting poles which had been snapped by falling trees and crossed by the debris which flew in the face of the storm, at one time 175 of our men turned from their work to help the county fire warden fight a fire

CHIEF HELD IN FILM BUBBLE

Indian Actor Accused of Fleecing Extra Out of $1000 in False Production Scheme

The alluring mirage of stardom in the films has vanished for Miss Lentie W. Luoma, a motion-picture extra, and with it also has gone more than $1000 of her hard-earned cash, police disclosed yesterday.

OFFERED BIG MONEY

Miss Luoma, who lives at 450 South Broadway avenue, told her story to police yesterday. She stated she was approached by Chief Lightheart several months ago. He informed her, she said, that he was a representative of a prominent producer and then proposed to sign her up to a contract calling for a salary of $150 a week.

HELD IN ARIZONA

In order to accomplish this result, she says, he induced her to turn over to him $500 in three installments, the money to be used for publicity purposes and to invest more than $400 in costumes.

SCHECK ASKS COURT TO DIRECT VERDICT IN AS-SERTED SWINDLE

At the conclusion of the evidence yesterday, in behalf of the government in an action against Martin J. Cullen, Bernard T. Cullen, Robert C. Denison and Thomas V. King of the Great Angles Oil Company, charged with using the mails in a scheme to defraud in connection with the asserted exploitation of Antelope Valley land for oil and agricultural purposes, a motion was made by attorneys for the defense that the court give a directed verdict in favor of the accused. The argument on the motion was made by Paul W. Schenck, who represented the two Cullens and Denison.

PATROLMAN COMMENDED FOR ARREST

Officer With Broken Gun Captures Three Believed to be Criminals

How a new police officer armed with a revolver with a broken spring, arrested single-handed three men believed to be desperate criminals, was told yesterday in an official police bulletin in which Chief Volmer commended Officer D. J. Dickey.

Dickey did not know at the time, however, that his pistol was useless. The arrest was made on the night of the 18th inst. Dickey's second night on the force.

Dickey came upon the trio at Ninth and Wall streets, thought them suspicious, drew his revolver and commanded them to halt.

Taken by surprise, they complied and let the policeman search them. From one, the bulletin relates, he took a flashlight and a jimmy, from another a revolver and pocketful of ammunition, and from the third a sack containing $47 in change. Then he called the patrol wagon.

One of the men, Albert DeGorgio, harnessed two terms in prison, the bulletin declares, and the other two are said to have criminal records, says the same authority.

Chief Dickey said, explained he had borrowed the revolver from his landlord, not having enough to buy one, and expecting to buy a pistol from his first pay check.

BIRNBAUM IS AGAINST BLUE LAWS

But Says Ordinances Are to be Enforced as Long as They are on Books

Police Commissioner Birnbaum, as an individual, favors dancing past midnight. Officially he will insist that so long as the dance ordinance is on the statute books it must be enforced.

This was the view expressed by him yesterday after the close of the Police Commission meeting, which, incidentally, was the most peaceful one since the organization of the new commission.

"Personally I see no harm in dancing past midnight, and think that the people, if they desire, can and should change the present ordinance so as to allow public dances to be held longer than now possible," he said in an informal statement.

"There can be no argument that the people have a right to enact any law they desire. On the other hand, there can be no argument that laws, once enacted, must be enforced. This is my position in the matter," he said.

He added that he was in favor of amending the dance ordinance. Speaking of the so-called blue laws, without reference to any particular one, Commissioner Birnbaum declared that the only way to remove them is to enforce them.

Commissioner Montgomery, who was present at the discussion, made no statement regarding his opinion on the subject of dancing, but agreed with Commissioner Birnbaum on enforcement of unpopular laws.

Both denied there was lack of harmony in the work on the Police Commission. Commissioner Montgomery stated he believed the records of the Commission will show that their action on applications for permits were more liberal, if anything, than the averages of the previous Commission.

Under a new system of handling Police Commission business, worked out by the two Commissioners, much of the red tape surrounding the board's deliberations in the past will be abolished, Mr. Birnbaum said yesterday.

Briefly, the new plan is to let Charles McKee, secretary of the Commission, receive all applications and all new business and classify it so that it will fall under several distinct heads and be ready for formal approval by the commission at the time of its meeting. It will be Mr. McKee's duty to see that the applications comply with every provision of the law, and then the Commission will be able to approve a number of similar applications at one time.

"We agree with Chief Volmer that we ought to have more time for real constructive work," Commissioner Birnbaum said.

CHIEF JACK LIGHTHEART

Deserted So Often He Had Missed Count

Harry E. Turner, 31 years of age, deserted so many Army posts he almost forgot their number, according to a confession reported by Detectives Farrell and Pickles, who picked him up at Los Angeles Harbor yesterday.

At the time he signed the contract, she declared, Chief Lightheart told her she was to be starred in a film to be called "Positives," but that her work on the picture would not start for several weeks. In the meantime, she said he informed her, it would be necessary to exploit her and bring her into the public eye.

HELD IN ARIZONA

In order to accomplish this result, she says, he induced her to turn over to him $500 in three installments, the money to be used for publicity purposes and to invest more than $400 in costumes.

Several weeks passed, she said, and as no money was forthcoming on her contract she became suspicious and went in search of her agent. Then she discovered, she said, that Chief Lightheart "had gone." A complaint charging grand larceny was filed against him yesterday and he was arrested when he alighted from the freight train at Florence, according to local police.

Several weeks passed, she said, and as no money was forthcoming on her contract she became suspicious and went in search of her agent. Then she discovered, she said, that Chief Lightheart "had gone." A complaint charging grand larceny was filed against him yesterday and he was arrested when he alighted from the freight train at Florence, according to local police.

Deserted So Often He Had Missed Count

Harry E. Turner, 31 years of age, deserted so many Army posts he almost forgot their number, according to a confession reported by Detectives Farrell and Pickles, who picked him up at Los Angeles Harbor yesterday.

At the time he signed the contract, she declared, Chief Lightheart told her she was to be starred in a film to be called "Positives," but that her work on the picture would not start for several weeks. In the meantime, she said he informed her, it would be necessary to exploit her and bring her into the public eye.

Here They Are!
Men's Blanket Robes

of the finer kind in a finer kind of Christmas—Today!

Blackstone's Men's Shop
scores again—and again offers most desirable Christmas merchandise at a very decided saving.

Such a satisfaction in saving at a Blackstone sale—where nothing of quality is EVER sacrificed, where savings are real.

Such a particular satisfaction in this instance—for the robes are of fine quality, the patterns are exceptionally good, the cut is right, the tailoring splendid—the whole event is well worth while—and you can't guess the savings until you see the robes. You will know about what they sell for regularly the minute you see them.

Shawl collars—braids on the cuffs and pockets—see them! Just about enough for while—day's selling at this special price.

In another stirring Blackstone value-event—just right for gifts

$8.95

He will never guess you paid so little—or if you tell him, he will approve your business acumen—for there isn't a man in or out of town that wouldn't grant these first place in value at this phenomenally low price.

Good looking to the last one—those warm, comfy all wool jackets with contrasting lapels and cuffs. You've probably admired any number of them at greatly higher prices.

A splendid assortment if you come early enough—but the quantity is limited, so come here first in the day's doings. REAL bargains, you will agree.

ARROYO SECO MEETING OF PROTEST CALLED

A mass meeting has been called for Friday night at the La Brea school to organize a protest against further rock crushing and excavating operations in the Arroyo Seco. It is under the auspices of the Greater Montecito Park Improvement Association, which is a reorganization of the former association. The association met Monday night and elected W. C. Steele president, Mrs. Bernice Johnson and Charles F. Lummis vice presidents and I. G. Van Nest secretary.

TO CONDUCT INQUEST IN AUTO CRASH DEATH

An inquest will be conducted at 1:30 p.m. today at the Anderson & Harden mortuary in Inglewood over the body of Clement Haws, killed in an automobile accident near El Segundo Sunday. Haws and four other boys were riding in a Ford car that collided with a heavier machine. Arthur Thomas also was killed in the same accident and four others were injured, including Haws's brother. All the boys are said to have lived in Venice.

ONE FREED IN HALL MURDERCharge Against Wiley is Dismissed at Trial'Adams Says He Shot in Self-DefenseTestifies He Visited Cafe to Hear Singer

The attraction Mildred Bailey, a cafe singer at Sycamore Lodge, had for James Adams, one of the defendants, was brought out prominently yesterday in testimony in the Hall murder trial in Judge Walton J. Wood's court. Adams was on the stand nearly all day, declaring Edward "Babe" Hall, one of the proprietors of the resort, attacked him without reason and that he had shot Hall in self-defense.

The charge against Charles E. Wiley, jointly accused with Adams and James P. Crotty of the murder, was dismissed yesterday by Judge Wood on motion of Dep. Dist. Atty. Ostrom. Wiley was Adams' room-mate, and was present at the time of the shooting, but had not been involved in the quarrel that preceded it.

TRIED TO FIGHT

Adams testified he and Crotty had been at the lodge early in the evening of September 15, and that Hall looked at him with "a bad eye" when Miss Bailey sang at their table.

"I liked to hear her sing, and that was the main reason I went to the cafe," said Adams. He said Hall followed him out and tried to fight him but he broke away and drove back to town with Crotty. He thought Hall was angry because he owed him $42.50, Adams said, so he borrowed $48 from Wiley and drove back to the lodge with it. Wiley and Crotty accompanied him.

He declared Hall and Leo Sadwin, a chef, met them outside, both armed with revolvers, and that Hall refused to listen when they tried to explain the purpose of their visit, but after threats brushed Crotty aside and struck the witness with a gun butt. Adams drew his own revolver, he said, and Hall fired at him. He returned the fire, fell down and fired again. He did not see whether the shots took effect, but stumbled into the lodge. Later he returned to Los Angeles with his friends, he said.

The case will continue today and Crotty is expected to follow Adams on the stand.

SAYS CRIME BOARD MUST
O.K. PAROLEJudge Avery Will Deny
All Applications Otherwise, He Announces

Bringing to an issue the criticism of him made by the Crime Commission for granting probation in criminal cases heard in his court, Superior Judge Avery yesterday made an oral statement from the bench informing members of the California bar that, subsequent to January 2, 1924, he would deny applications for probation not favorably passed upon and certified by the Crime Commission.

The judge, who said he was surprised by the action of the Crime Commission, declared that he was within his province as a jurist in granting or refusing probation and that he had always acted according to the provisions of the law governing such matters.

He said that by bringing all applications before the attention of the commission that body would virtually be called upon to serve as an accessory to the probation department and would have the opportunity to ascertain what constitutes good cause for probation.

Members of the Crime Commission with whom the matter was informally discussed yesterday expressed the opinion that such an arrangement as was suggested by Judge Avery would not be possible under the code provisions surrounding the granting of parole, as the commission is an official body with no standing in law. They reiterated that the commission's function is to study the local machinery of the law, to point out defects in its operation and to co-operate with the constituted authorities in remedying these defects, but without itself usurping any official duties.

IN COURT

Nita Bartlett was granted a divorce yesterday by Judge Summerfield of the Superior Court from Charles E. Bartlett, a director of the Neal Hart productions. She charged desertion.

Mrs. Alto Stevens and Mrs. Helen Travers, former motion-picture actresses, took the stand for Mrs. Bartlett and testified to seeing Bartlett in New York with a woman known only as Gladys, who posed as his wife. The witnesses stated that Bartlett and the other woman also occupied the same apartment while they were on location at Gloversville, N. Y.

The couple were married on October 1, 1920, and separated on October 1, 1922.

WILLARD FILES SUITFormer Champion Seeks to Quiet

Jess Willard, former heavy-weight boxing champion, yesterday filed suit to quiet title to real estate in Hollywood between Sunset and Santa Monica boulevards, near Vine street, against the Title Insurance Company and the Citizens' Savings Bank. The suit concerns restrictions on the property relating to a provision that the land may be sold only to members of the Caucasian race.

BIDS MADE ON SEWER SECTIONS

Four Units of Outfall
Project Estimated to Cost
$1,250,000

The Board of Public Works has received and opened bids for laying four sections of the new outfall sewer being built from the city to the sea, these portions of the new pipe line calling for an expenditure of over $1,250,000. The four sections include that part of the sewer from Culver City to the sewage screening plant at Hyperion. The improvements will be financed from the $12,000,000 sewer bond issue authorized by the voters more than a year ago.

Contracts have been let for the other sections and the laying of the pipe and other work is proceeding rapidly under the direction of Sewer Construction Engineer Van Norman.

The low bids for the different sections, as judged upon preliminary examination, were as follows:
No. 4, Ross Construction Company, $302,500; No. 6, Callahan and Cooney, $298,000; No. 8, Lynn S.
Atkinson, Jr., $249,500; No. 9,
Thomas Kelley and Sons, $153,- $16.

Engineer Van Norman, however, is examining all the bids in great detail so as to make recommendations to the board for the awarding of the contract that will result in the greatest savings possible to the taxpayers.

At the present rate of speed being made in laying the new sewer,
in building the screening plant at Hyperion and laying the submarine pipe line on the bed of the ocean from which the screened sewage will be dispersed into the sea one mile from shore, it is expected that the new sewer will be in use January 1, 1925.

PURCHASE OF POWER SHOWN UP

Seventy Per Cent of the City Consumption Said to be Bought From Edison

Councilman Mushet yesterday made public from official reports data sustaining his charge made from the floor of the Council at Monday's session that the Municipal Bureau of Power and Light was purchasing from the Southern California Edison Company 70 per cent of the requirements of the consumers on the city lines.

"The records show," said Councilman Mushet, "that during October the city plants produced and delivered to Los Angeles consumers, 15,461,193 kilowatt hours of electric current, while at the same time the Bureau purchased and received from the Edison company 23,857,345 kilowatt hours of electricity for consumers on the city lines."

"The records show that in October the city was purchasing 65.3 per cent of its current and was generating at the city plants but 34.2 per cent of its needs."

"In November, the ratio had increased to 70 per cent and 30 per cent generated at the city plants, and for December the ratio against the city plants is still larger. These figures answer the claim of the Power Bureau, made on its behalf by Councilman Criswell, that the city plants are generating 30,000 horsepower and purchasing but 50,000 horsepower."

The Board of Public Service
Commissioners also yesterday adopted resolutions calling upon the Chief Electrical Engineer to make an estimate of the cost of an auxiliary steam plant for generating electricity, to be used in emergencies when breakdowns in the source of electrical power occur.

Film Stars to Aid Party for Poor Children

The Salvation Army Christmas

various schools in the city.

Among the film personages who will appear on the program will be Edith Bennett, who will wear
the costume of the Princess in
"Robin Hood," and Baby Peggy, noted child star, who numbers to delight the children will be presented by the children of the Olive Hill School and pupils of the Marta Oatman Studios in dances.

Every child who attends will be presented with gifts from the Christmas tree. Santa Claus will be on hand to add his bit to the success of the affair.

An invitation has been extended to the general public to attend and help make the affair a success. Proceeds will go to the fund to give the children of the day nursery a happy Christmas.

HEARING POSTPONED

Woman Held as I.W.W. Aide Asks Continuance

Mrs. Anna Hartman, arrested
Monday at Second and Main street
on a charge of distributing I.W.W.
literature in violation of the injunction recently issued at Sacramento, appeared before Police Judge Folk yesterday. The injunction was issued on the charge of a continuance in her case. This was granted and the case will be heard today.

TO PAY FOR OIL WELL IN AUSTRALIA

Government Offers Large Prize for Production on Continent

A standing offer of $50,000 has been made by the Australian government to anybody who can discover oil in paying quantities on that continent, according to H.
Bodie, piano manufacturer of Melbourne.

Mr. Bodie, who is a guest at the Alexandria, is interested in a company seeking the prize and during his stay here in visiting the oil fields to learn what he can about American production.

"Our company has been drilling test wells in Northern Tasmania," said Mr. Bodie, "and, according to last reports, prospects are good for bringing in a producer. Russian oil experts have been directing the work and have assured us that oil indications in that region are excellent."

Tasmania is a large island off the Australian coast and is one of the provinces belonging to the Anzac dominions. Mr. Bodie says prospecting for oil has been in progress in his country for years, but that nowhere on the mainland have the investigators met with any encouragement.

"The production of oil at home
would be of great advantage to Australia," said Mr. Bodie. "It would help greatly in the development of the country. At present gasoline prices range from 75 cents to a dollar a gallon, making the use of automobiles prohibitive to anybody but the well-to-do. We have no automobile factories and are paying prices for cars that run about twice what the machines cost in the United States. The opening up of oil wells would no doubt create such a demand for cars that we would be justified in establishing factories, and it would also stimulate the improvement of roads, which in many parts of our continent are practically non-existent."

BODY FOUND FLOATING IN ECHO LAKE

Woman Believed to Have Ended Life Identified by Her Landlady

The body of Mrs. Emma Miner,
60 years of age, of Pupallup
Wash., stopping at 2380 London street, was found yesterday floating in Echo Park lake. Detectives Wilson, Adams and Warn expressed the opinion she had drowned herself, and decided the body had been in the water about an hour when found.

Cancellation of Cafe Lease Asked in Suit

Charging that Joseph Lotito and Cristoforo Lotito, operators of the "Moonlit Gardens" cafe on West Washington Boulevard kept and sold intoxicating liquors contrary to the provisions of the national prohibition laws, Frances Par-tenico and Elizabeth Partenico, owners of the property, yesterday
had on file in the Superior Court a document asking cancellation of a lease on the premises.
The lease, according to the complaint, was entered into May 1,

1922, and was to run for a period of ten years, but because of the manner in which the defendants were asserted to have conducted the place the plaintiffs were said to have asked them November 30, last, to vacate the property and surrender the lease.

The suit was prepared by Attorneys Rush Blodgett and T. P.
Mendes, Jr., and asked for restitution of the premises and damages.

CHILD HURT IN FALL

Jennie Karsoff, 13 months of age, fell from a second-story window yesterday at her home, 327 South Bodie street, and suffered a fractured skull. After examination at the Receiving Hospital by Police Surgeon Dodge,
she was taken to the General Hospital.

RADIO DIVISION AIDS INDUSTRY

Consolidation Has Created Service Expansion

Music Trades Body Gives Rare Program

"The Times" Station Sends Variety of Harmony

BY K. G. ORMISTON
The radio industry in the Southland took an important step forward when the Radio Trades Association recently consolidated with the Music Trades Association. Now functioning under the title of Radio Division of the larger organization, the dealers of radio equipment are being benefited by their association with the leaders in the music industry, who have had many years of experience in merchandising and catering to the musical tastes of the public.

Furthermore, the combination makes available unlimited talent for the assistance of the broadcasters. The Music Trades Association, of which Alfred G. Farquharson is secretary, is presenting a series of eight programs in "The Times" studio. These comprise the acoustic and matinee programs for four consecutive days. The first two were presented yesterday, through the courtesy of the Southern California Music Company. Many artists participated, and the two and a half hours of entertainment proved to be of exceptional artistry and balance.

Katherine Thompson, saxophonist, and her saxophone quartet were heard in some splendid work. Miss Thompson played a composition which was dedicated to her by the composer Jascha Gurevich, saxophone soloist with Sousa's Band. The number was splendid.

Herb Wiedorf, well known for his orchestral work, entertained with a trumpet solo, playing "The Lost Chord." His interpretation was marked with masterly ability, and registered perfectly.

Salvino Balano, violinist, was a feature of the program, needing no introduction to Radioland. His contribution was given in his usual accomplished style.

Charles Kink, tenor, was accompanied by Florence Heacock, and sang in a voice of great power and vibrant richness. Jesse L. Stafford favored with a trombone solo, as well as playing with Herb Wiedorf, in a trumpet-trombone number of particular effectiveness.

Margaret Fern Melrose, soprano, and Alice Lee Wiley were heard on both programs, noon and matinee. The soprano, beloved by all Radioland, gave a number of songs in her clear, sweet voice of unusual tonal qualities.

"Across the Still Legend," by Loge; "Annie Laurie," by Scott, and "Indian Serenade," and "Song of the Southland," by Alice Lee Wiley were beautifully sung.

The composer- pianist, Alice Lee Wiley, favored with solo numbers, marked with an understanding of the technical requirements of radio broadcast in addition to a masterly pianistic artistry.

The matinee broadcast presented Ruth Shaffer, soprano, and Thompson, pianist. Z. Earl Meeker, baritone and M. Paul Jones, banjoist. M. Paul Jones is an instructor of the band, and the numbers which he presented were either his own arrangements or compositions. All were splendidly given.

The baritone, Z. Earl Meeker, was heard in a number of solos, given in a fine voice of warmth and feeling. Ann Thompson, who played his accompaniments, also entertained with solo numbers of charming effect.

The evening program was presented by Dr. Marina Tracie Whiting and her concert company, one of the dandiest aggregations of merriment and entertainment who ever parked before a microphone. The Musical Three were there, and also the Golden Trio, known as "Our Redheads." Helen Ethel Littlejohn officiated at the piano, and the offerings of these two trios were tremendous hits.

Clifford Cooke, tenor robusto, and Clyde H. Cooke, lyric tenor, were heard, with Edna Grace Cooke at the piano. The Cooke family surely established themselves as talented musicians in their offerings.

Alfred Starck, baritone cantate, and James Cranney, baritone, also took their turns before "Mike," the latter singing the "Rosary," and the former "The Drum Major," and "The Refractory Monk." Edna Grace Cooke still at the piano. Both voices were of fine quality and went out splendidly.

Marietta Page, contralto, also entertained with charming songs, and Lyle Blake Milligan, the female "Uncle Josh," who will be remembered as "Buddy" at the Thanksgiving party broadcast by KHJ, put on a riotous entertainment in a monologue.

Dr. Thomas Lutzman, pastor of the Mesa Congregational Church, gave a forceful address on "Mud and Stars." His message was the subject of "Sound."

Dr. Dayton C. Miller of the School of Applied Sciences of Chicago, lectured through the courtesy of the Brain Corporation, on the subject of "Sound."

TODAY'S PROGRAM
12:30 to 2:30 p.m. Program presented by Music Trades Association, Alfred G. Farquharson, secretary, through the courtesy of Barker Brothers, collaborating with Alexander Bevan, basso and coach Vivian Strong Hart, coloratura soprano. Elizabeth Pike, dramatic soprano. Harold Shugart, concert tenor. Leola Castellano, lyric soprano. Alexander Bevan, basso. Mina Hellekson, concert pianist and accompanist. Mae Gates Pepper, violinist. Alice Forsythe Mosher, concert soprano. Ada Arundel Pillow, dramatic contralto. E. P. Burley, lyric tenor. Leslie Brigham, basso. Sibley G. Pease, pianist and accompanist. Sol Cohen, violinist. Claire Forbes Crane, concert pianist and accompanist for Mr. Cohen. Assisted by Don Fiddell, chromatic accordion. Catherine Rosier, soprano.

MAXIMES STORE TO GO UP SOON

Work on New Building Will Start in January

Cost of Structure to be in Excess of $300,000

McKinley Home Plans Four Large Dormitories

Work will be started shortly after the first of the year on the new six-story home for Maxims, merchants, to be located on the present store site at 519 South Broadway. The cost will be in excess of $300,000. This announcement was made yesterday by Architect Charles F. Plummer who has been engaged to prepare drawings.

The structure will be of steel frame construction utilizing parts of the present building in the home. The structure will have a frontage of forty-six feet on South Broadway, will be 152 feet in depth and will provide an approximate floor space of 40,000 square feet.

TEMPORARY QUARTERS

During the building operations, the Maxims firm will lease temporary quarters in the vicinity of the present store. It is expected work will be completed in March. All exterior facings will be of terra cotta materials designed after the architecture of the Italian renaissance.

New buildings for the McKinley Home in San Fernando Valley will be erected soon, according to plans announced by Lyman Farwell, designer. The buildings will include

EDUCATOR IN PEACE PEA

Dr. Augustus Thomas Asserts Women Will Pave Way to World Harmony

Nearly 1000 members of the Los Angeles City Teachers' Club and their guests at the Teachers' Institute heard a stirring appeal for world peace delivered by Dr. Augustus Thomas, State Commissioner of Education of Maine, at the Elitmore Hotel yesterday afternoon.

Among those seated at the speakers' table were representatives of the city, county and State educational systems. Jeanette Jacobson, president of the club, acted as toastmaster. At the conclusion of Dr. Thomas' talk, announcement was made of plans to launch a teacher-citizen "Friendship League" to promote a better understanding of problems confronting both teacher and citizen.

Dr. Thomas, who became an international figure as president of the World Federation of Educational Associations, declared that world peace will come in the future through the proper education of the young of all nations.

"The welfare of the world is in the hands of the women," said Dr. Thomas. "The teacher in the school room moulds and fashions the opinions and tastes of the generations to come. In co-operation with the hand that rocks the cradle in the home."

"If it were possible to frame a code of rules to govern human conduct on the basis of brotherly love, and this code were put to the 5,000,000 teachers of the world to teach to the one-quarter billion children, we could then build up a patriotic—built up four dormitories, two stories high, providing quarters for 144 boys. More than twenty-five separate buildings will be erected on the site at a cost of $500,000 before the project has been completed.

Plans for the erection of a five-story class A apartment building to cost approximately $350,000 on the site of the present store between Sixth and Orange streets for H. Hoffman of Kansas City, were disclosed yesterday. Architects R. Tilden Norris and Frederick H. Wallis have been commissioned to prepare specifications for the proposed structure which will be of reinforced concrete.

Plans are being prepared for a four-story hotel building on Sonoma street between Third and Fourth streets for Lane, Slossburg & Schank. It was stated yesterday by Architect H. W. Charlton, Glendale. The structure will contain 112 rooms and will cost $150,000. Another hotel in the same block is being planned by Architect L. L. Jones for Mrs. E. Holmes at a cost of $150,000. This building will contain 110 rooms and will be four stories high.

FOUR-STORY HOTEL

A three-story building of class C construction and containing stores and apartments will be erected at Forty-second and Main streets at a cost of approximately $150,000. It was learned yesterday. The West Coast Home Builders, 4996 West Adams street, are preparing the specifications for the structure which they plan to erect for themselves. There will be five stores on the ground floor and the upper stories will be divided into single and double apartments. The site of the proposed structure is 75 feet wide by 142 feet deep.

COL. STORY IS DINED BY ASSOCIATES

Adj.-Gen. Middlesteadt is Among Those Present at Birthday Surprise

Officers and men of the One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry, C.N.G., gave a "surprise" dinner to their commanding officer, Col. Walter P. Story, at the regimental armory last night, the occasion being the colonel's birthday. The dinner also afforded the opportunity to introduce to the regiment Adj.-Gen. Richard E. Middlesteadt, recently appointed by Gov. Richardson to the position in the California National Guard.

Maj. Seth E. Hard acted as toastmaster. He stated the banquet was given to the colonel as an expression of their appreciation. A number of persons who have assisted the regiment were present as guests. As to the colonel's age, Maj. Hard declared "he is much younger than you think he is."

A monster birthday cake, baked by the regimental cook, Elmer Danfey, was presented to the colonel by Chaplain Lawrence, who acted as master of ceremonies. In a brief presentation speech, the chaplain declared the dinner was tendered to the colonel because "he is a regular soldier."

Following the introduction of Adj.-Gen. Middlesteadt, the general briefly told of the plays of his administration, in accordance with the wishes of Gov. Richardson, to make the California National Guard one of the finest organizations of its kind in the country.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED FOR FUND DRIVE

Salvation Army Urges Citizens to Assist in Christmas Collection

Renewed activity in Salvation Army Campaign for Christmas relief work is promised today, following the announcement made late yesterday by Brigadier C. H. Boyd, divisional commander for Southern California, that the activities of army workers would continue until Christmas.

With the extended period, the need for additional workers was emphasized at the headquarters on the mezzanine floor of the Angelus Hotel. A number of women workers have promised to work for another week but at least fifty more are needed. Mrs. E. H. Laurer, president of the Council of Jewish Women, issued a special bulletin to the membership of the society urging them to report at the Angelus Hotel headquarters for duty during the week.

Motion-picture people yesterday gave concrete evidence of their warm sympathy for the work of the army among the unfortunate Los Angeles. Mary Pickford reported that she had arranged to lead eight of the Baby Stars

YULETIDE CLEMENCY UNLIKELY

Executive of State Has Received No Request of Kind for I.W.W.

Gov. Richardson has received no request that he extend executive clemency at Christmas to prisoners serving sentence under the State penitentiary law, he said yesterday in discussing a news dispatch from Chicago that such requests were being sent to State Governors by Harry Feltner, secretary of the I.W.W. general defense committee. His secretary at Sacramento, with whom he had
